Rappahannock Westminister-Canterbury

Rappahannock Westminister-Canterbury

Among Virginia's best addresses for active living.

Rappahannock Westminister-Canterbury is a Continuing Care Retirement Community located in the coastal town of Irvington in Virginia's Northern Neck. Not far from the cities of Richmond, Newport News, Williamsburg, Fredericksburg and Washington, D.C., many find RWC the perfect rural retreat. Residents enjoy a friendly relaxing lifestyle while still remaining actively involved with family and friends both near and far.

Whether preparations for retirement are in the near future or a little farther down the road, the Rappahannock Club at Rappahannock Westminister-Canterbury is the perfect place to start to not only ensure the residence of your choice is available and ready when you are, but to guarantee a secure future for your health, finances, and overall peace of mind.

Terms of Participation

Completion of the Registration Form for The Rappahannock Club at Rappahannock Westminister-Canterbury (RWC), together with a deposit of $1,000, guarantees the Depositor consideration for residency at RWC in the order of receipt of registration, preferences indicated for living accommodations and probable year of entry. Some living accommodations may be reserved for transfer of current residents.

By registering, the Depositor is not obligated to RWC nor is admission guaranteed by RWC. Acceptance for admission will be based upon health and financial data to be supplied at the time of application. The Depositor may at any time cancel the registration, and the deposit will be refunded within thirty (30) days. At the time of application, the deposit will be applied to the Reservation Deposit or Depositor's Entrance Fee.

RWC reserves the right to cancel the registration by returning the deposit. All refunds will be without interest. The Rappahannock Club registrations are non-assignable. If two or more parties make this registration, the term Depositor is deemed to include all parties and payment of a single deposit shall be for all parties or the survivor(s).

Priority

RWC will assign a Priority Number based on the chronological order of receipt of the registration form and deposit.

You select the type of residence you prefer and the approximate year you anticipate becoming a resident of RWC. As your preferred residence becomes available, RWC will contact you. You will have the option to reserve the available residence or remain on the waiting list. In the event two or more members respond to the same offer, preference will be given to the member having the lowest priority number.

Membership Options

Upon residency, RWC offers a Lifecare contract allowing individuals and couples alike to pay a one-time entrance fee, and a monthly maintenance fee, to secure a RWC residence and services for years to come.

As you begin a journey towards residency at RWC, you are able to worry less and enjoy life more as your future plans are firmly established.

Membership in the Rappahannock Club secures a priority position based on your membership date. So, even if you do not plan to move within the next year, or the next five, the sooner you join the Rappahannock Club, you improve your opportunity to reserve your desired future home, especially when there are waiting lists.

- » Ready Now? We will let you know as soon as a home meeting your desired criteria becomes available.
- » Planning for the Future? As a future resident, enjoy the benefits of membership and remain on our future residency list until you are ready while maintaining your priority position on our wait list.
